"ALICE IN WONDERLAND."

A real success from every standpoint was scored at the Colonial Theatre last night, when "Alice in Wonderland," a beautiful musical setting of the well known fairy tale, was presented by nearly one hundred of Bryan's most talented children under the able and charming guidance of Miss Anita Park.

Because Miss Parks' entertainments are always excellent, and because Bryan's Civic League was to receive the financial benefit of the occasion, the house was crowded to the doors in time for the curtain at 8:15 o'clock.

The entire program of the evening was splendid, and if it were possible the Eagle would gladly mention every child who took part, for all deserve it, but space forbids.

The leading role of "Alice" was impersonated by Miss Helen Moore, who gave her lines in a degree of excellence far beyond her years. In fact, her acting, her enunciation and her charming little voice were all superb and called for praise and admiration from the entire audience.

Alice's little white rabbit was impersonated by Miss Beatrice Petty, who also proved herself artistic in voice and manner.

Two specialties were introduced between acts that deserve mention. Master Rhodes Dunlap sang a charming little rag time melody that fairly captivated the audience and when called back by hearty applause, recited a cute little rhyme that was equally well rendered.

To the quaint Scotch air "Highland Fling," Miss Pattie Sims, the charming little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Sims, gave the Scotch dance of the clan of McKenzie. Her costume was typically Scotch and her sash (plaid) was one worn by her great grandmother in Scotland nearly one hundred years ago.

POULTRY RAISERS MEET.

Big Poultry Show Will Be Held in Bryan Jan. 7 and 8.

An interesting meeting of the Brazos County Poultry Raisers' Association was held in the office of Farm Demonstration Agent A. W. Buchanan yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The meeting was called to order by C. E. Jenkins, president of the association. There were quite a number of the members of the organization and others interested in poultry raising present.

The proposition of holding a big poultry exhibit in Bryan in the near future was thoroughly discussed. All present agreed that a big poultry show would do more to stimulate interest in poultry raising than all other methods that could be tried. A motion was made and carried that an exhibit be held in this city on Jan. 7 and 8, 1916. The location for the exhibit has not yet been selected.

The following committees were appointed by President Jenkins to perfect all arrangements for the show:

Committee on premiums: Dr. S. C. Richardson, J. Webb Howell, Mrs. W. S. Howell. Publicity committee: A. W. Buchanan, Mrs. Q. W. Hays, J. H. Conway and H. Crenshaw. Committee to arrange room for the exhibit: J. M. Spreckelmeyer, H. Crenshaw and George Higgs. Program and demonstration committee: Prof. P. W. Karmelner and T. J. Conway.

The association on motion then adjourned to meet again on Dec. 14, at 8 p. m.

EGG-SELLING ASSOCIATIONS.

The October egg roll has just turned more than $100 "egg money" into the pockets of the eighteen farmers who are members of the Co-Operative Egg-Selling Association at the Mississippi A. and M. College. This was the first egg-selling association established in Mississippi and has been in operation for several years. During the past year it has been returning as much as $17 each month to some of its members.

The association secures a market, crates and ships the eggs and returns 27c to the farmer for every dozen eggs he furnishes. The remaining 3c covers the cost of express and crating, no charge being made for the services of E. P. Clayton of the poultry department, who handles the eggs for the members. The association is now shipping ninety dozen fresh eggs every week.

A number of these egg-selling associations are doing good work in the state. Without co-operation the farmers get only the market price for their eggs, whereas, by shipping together as they are doing they not only get more "egg money" from the same number of hens, but are encouraged to improve their poultry and to use better business methods on their farms. Any information on organizing these egg-selling associations will be furnished by the poultry department, Agricultural College, Mississippi.

Miss Myrtle James went to Austin today for a visit to Mrs. Arthur Moore and other friends in that city.

Rev. P. H. Newsome arrived last night from Fort Worth to accept the pastorate of the Free Baptist Church of Kurten for the ensuing year. He will be joined here in the near future by his wife and children.
